The Texas Forest Country Partnership (TFCP) invests in the growth and sustainability of our Forest Country region.

TFCP members have input into issues of concern as the region grows and a greater voice for representation for the region in Austin and Washington.

The TFCP is a non-profit economic development organization committed to business attraction, retention and expansion in the East Texas Forest Country Region. Committed to a regional economic development approach, the TFCP provides expert assistance and initiatives that enhance the region's appeal.

The TFCP is managed by a full-time staff and a board of directors consisting of members from our counties. Membership is open to individuals, groups, businesses, and governmental entities within the 12-county area that includes Angelina, Houston, Jasper, Nacogdoches, Newton, Polk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Trinity and Tyler counties.

WHAT WE PROVIDE

A strong and collaborative approach to regional representation regarding project leads, available resources and support for the region through advocacy

Current (real-time) regional and countywide demographics, including workforce data and opportunities to list real estate and sites for development, are available at no cost on the TFCP website

A professional staff experienced in incentive negotiations, the site selection process, and who has a successful track record of working with a variety of regional, state, national and international representatives

Informational resources on economic development to companies, cities and counties

Assistance garnering and providing support with legislators and agency officials

Training opportunities in Economic Development

Support for attracting a diversified workforce

An annual economic development summit offering local, regional and state professionals, legislators and members an opportunity for education and networking

Investing in the future of the Texas Forest Country ensures continuous growth of each of the communities in our region.

PROVEN VALUE ADVANCING REGIONAL INITIATIVES SINCE 1960

Continuing an aggressive 12-county regional strategy, which includes industry initiatives for advanced manufacturing, forestry, healthcare and tourism through the Stronger Economies Together (SET) Program.

Promoting wise use of our natural resources and fair allocation of water

Promoting strong educational facilities and workforce development

Continuing to work with agencies, foundations and other organizations to identify opportunities and barriers for health care services in rural communities. TFCP is a part of the data evaluation process to ensure our counties can affect change that could lead to improved health outcomes.

New and retained jobs and expanded employer payrolls in forest and wood products and other industries have been created in our region through the efforts of the TFCP.

Establishing connections and relationships between members of our region, legislators and potential businesses

Successful in providing resources, alliances and connections bringing local, regional and state officials together with potential new businesses resulting in successful transition of companies to the area.
